

SAMPLE OPENING SPEECH 1

Honorable chairs and dear delegates

The country of New Guinea feels that the issue of the civil war in Yemen is important to the United Nations, as many countries all around the world, including major empires and powerful parties, have taken part in. Accordingly, New Guinea is greatly affected by this conflict. Many Yemenis are being displaced, in seeking for safety in countries not taking part in the war. As a country that gets huge amounts of immigrants yearly and not having a flourishing economy, our politics are in stake. On top of all, the immigrants not only do not respect our country but they are also asking for jobs and health aid. Statistics show that in December 2017, 420 immigrants were asking for asylum and showed acts of violence against our authorities in order to get it.

This committee should understand that due to this conflict are rights are being indulged and our economy is not able to handle this situation.

The government of New Guinea has been trying to deal with the issue of the civil war in Yemen in both nation and international level. On a nation level, the country is trying to organize advertising campaigns in order to encourage people to take part in charity for all the immigrants and implement them with food, clothes and hygiene products. On an international level, New Guinea is trying to raise awareness all around the world so people start asking for peaceful terms of negotiation to put an end to this conflict.

The country of New Guinea recommends the committee to:

- facilitate the delivery of humanitarian assistance
- allow general, presidential and governmental elections
- comply with predator's obligations under international law

In conclusion, New Guinea urges the movement all countries to start helping resolving the question of Yemen, because this issue has great influence to many parties and soon it is going to become a world war not just a civil one.

Thank you for your time.
